Demonstração 1-80 de 293 item(s) How long can I wear my contact lenses?Here at The Optical Store, we offer different contact lens modalities designed to last different amounts of time. Daily contact lenses can be worn for up to 12 hours before they must be removed and disposed of. Weekly, two-weekly and monthly contact lenses can also be worn for up to 12 hours a day, but must be removed and cleaned before bed, and stored in a safe, sterile contact lens container. Extended wear contact lenses are the only type you are permitted to wear while sleeping. These can be kept in for up to seven daysHow do I insert and remove my contact lenses?Contact lenses are easy to use, but it's essential to follow the correct procedures for application and removal to avoid discomfort or damage to your eyes. To insert your contact lenses: Start by washing your hands thoroughly with soap and water and drying them with a lint-free towel.Check that the contact lens is not inside out by placing it on the tip of your finger and looking at the edge.If it's shaped like a bowl, it's correct; if it's flared out, it's inside out.Hold your upper eyelid open with one hand and use the other hand to hold the lens on the tip of your index finger.Look up and gently place the contact lens on your eye, then release your eyelid and blink to centre the lens.To remove your contact lenses: Start by washing your hands thoroughly with soap and water and drying them with a lint-free towel.Look up and pull down your lower eyelid with one finger, then use your other hand to slide the lens down to the white part of your eye.Take the lens out from your eye by gently pinching it between your thumb and index finger.How do I store my contact lenses?Non-disposable contact lenses should be stored in a contact lens case. These are divided into two parts so you can keep track of your left and right contact lenses.After cleaning and rinsing off your contact lenses with sterile saline solution, insert them into the contact lens case and top it up with fresh contact lens solution. This will keep them sterile and hydrated, ready for their next wear. You should replace your contact lens case at least once every three months.Will my contact lenses expire? Yes. You can find the expiry date printed on every box of contact lenses you receive. Contact lenses usually last for one year from their manufacturing date. It's not recommended you wear or open a new packet over a year after purchasing them. Expired contact lenses can lead to infection and potential eye damage.Even if the blister packet is unopened, the solution inside may have expired, causing the chemicals to break down and the lenses to dry out, leading to complications.How can I tell if my contact lenses are inside out?The first sign of wearing contact lenses inside out is instant irritation, likely prompting you to remove the lens straight away. Cleanse the lens again in contact lens solution, take it on your fingertip and assess the curvature of the edges. Your lens should present a bowl-shape, with no folding or curling around the edges.If you're still unsure, flip your contact the other way (make sure you have clean hands), check for curling, and re-insert. Make sure you rinse off your lens before every re-insertion to prevent bacterial build up.Note that removing and reinserting your lenses too often in a short space can cause irritation. After a few attempts, it might feel like your lens is inside out when it's not.What do I do if I'm unable to remove a contact lens from my eye?Contact lenses can be tricky to remove if your eye is irritated from too many attempts, or if you've accidentally slept wearing your lenses.Apply lens comfort drops or sterile saline solution designed for contact lenses to re-hydrate your eyes and lubricate the lens, allowing it to be removed more easily. If you're still struggling to remove the lens, see your optician as soon as possible.Can I re-wear damaged lenses?No. Torn or damaged lenses can lead to a host of complications such as infections, scarring and more. If you notice a split, tear or other damage to one of your contact lenses, replace it immediately.Are dry eyes normal when wearing contact lenses?Yes, it's normal for your eyes to dry out slightly while wearing contacts, especially as the day draws to a close. If your eyes are feeling dry and uncomfortable, you can insert some lens-friendly eye drops to moisten and re-hydrate your eyes. You can also buy rewetting drops to re-hydrate your lenses. If irritation persists or your eyes feel truly uncomfortable, it's best to remove your lenses for the day.Can I order different power lenses than prescribed to me?If you've ordered the correct prescription but your vision still seems blurry, we'd suggest getting your eyes re-checked by an optician before ordering a different prescription. We wouldn't recommend self-prescribing a different contact lens power in case there is an underlying issue (such as astigmatism) which is affecting the clarity of your sight.Can I swim or shower while wearing contact lenses?You should avoid allowing your lenses to make contact with water due to the risk of infection caused by the bacteria present in water. This is just as true for chemically treated water.You can swim wearing contact lenses if you choose well-fitting goggles to protect your eyes from infection. If showering wearing contact lenses, make sure to keep your eyes shut and do not vigorously rub them, as this can lead to irritation or displacement of the contact lens. If you want to be on the safe side, remove your contacts before entering water and, if necessary, choose prescription swimming goggles.Can contact lenses get stuck or lost in my eye?Contact lenses can get stuck, but not lost. It's impossible for the contact lens to get "lost behind your eye" – the conjunctiva prevents this from happening. If you can't find your contact lens when removing it, it's either (a) already fallen out, but the irritation leads you to believe it's still there or (b) stuck under your top eyelid, in which case tilt your head back, lift your top eyelid and slide the lens down, before pinching it out. Help Center Due to a mix of late ordering on my part and the bank holiday timing, my lenses weren't going to arrive before I flew out for holiday. I reached out and, despite the tricky timing, the team responded immediately and sent out a priority replacement to make sure I had lenses in time - which arrived just before I left! They also shipped the full order after I returned, at no extra cost. You don't often come across service like this - I'm a loyal customer now!Date of experience: 24 April 2025I'm very satisfied with my order - everything was as described, the delivery was fast, and the price was great. I can definitely recommend it to a friend.Date of experience: 25 April 2025I ordered 2 brands of lenses as I was still trying them out. I called Optical Store to check when my order would be delivered and spoke to Tony who was very very helpful in confirming that my lenses would be delivered quickly & also recommended the better brand of lenses to choose, so he amended my order and it was all very very quick and simple. Amazing customer service & I received my lenses in a matter of days. Would recommend.Date of experience: 17 March 2025Thank you for taking the time to leave us a review Candy. We're really glad that we were able to provide you with a 5 star experience and we look forward to welcoming you back again soon! Thank you so much for the speedy delivery of my lenses. The best service I have received from an online contact lens store. Amazing. I will be using you to order in the future. Outstanding customer service and you get to speak to a real person, who were extremely helpful Date of experience: 02 April 2025Thank you for your review Beth. Your feedback is extremely appreciated and we're glad that we managed to exceed your expectations. We look forward to seeing you back again soon!Tried this company as needed to restock on contact lenses, best price I found. The time from order to delivery was very quick and I can only second the many reviews that praise the customer service. Will definitely be using this company from now on Date of experience: 28 March 2025Thank you for taking the time to leave us a review and we're so pleased to hear about your 5 star experience. We look forward to welcoming you back again soon!This is the first time I used Optical Store. I normally go to Feel Good Lenses. Their prices for the daily contact lenses I was looking for were the lowest I could find, so I ordered a year's supply. They arrived promptly and included were 20 complimentary pairs of lenses - this was a nice surprise and worth another £20 or so off the order. Will use againDate of experience: 17 March 2025Thanks for taking the time to leave us a review Robert. We're so happy to hear you had a 5 star experience with us and look forward to welcoming you back again soon!Made my contact lens order on Monday. Account said it had been dispatched on Wednesday. The following Monday Royal mail tracking says sender handed parcel into Parcel Shop and it would be delivered on Wednesday. Hopefully, my order will arrive tomorrow as I'm on my last pair on contact lens.So be prepared for a long wait if you order online.Date of experience: 21 January 2025Thanks for your review. We are proud to say that the majority of our orders are delivered within 3 working days, however mishaps can occur and we apologise if this has been the case for you.Please feel free to contact us directly so that we can investigate your issue further, as we don't have any information from your Trustpilot review.We pride ourselves on the highest quality customer service, so we will endeavour to assist you once we've received more information from you.I've tried many online contact lens providers, but nothing beats The Optical Store!Not only are the prices unbeatable, but the customer service is also truly world-class. I made a mistake with my prescription details, and the team picked it up immediately. They called me directly to explain the issue and even sent free samples so I wouldn't be left without lenses while waiting for my slightly delayed delivery—caused by my own mistake!A human touch like this is so rare in the era of fast-growing AI.I'll definitely buy from them again and recommend them to everyone!Date of experience: 06 November 2024Thank you for your review Sophie. We're so happy that we were able to help and we're glad to hear that you'll be back. We look forward to seeing you again soon!My contact lenses arrived very quickly and packaged extremely well. I had made a mistake in my order and the customer service team were very kind and quick to respond. I'll definitely be ordering my contacts from here from now on! Thank you!Datum van ervarng: 03 november 2024Fast delivery great price and helpful support.Date of experience: 05 November 2024Thank you for your review Kiana. Thank you!Datum van ervarng: 05 november 2024Thank you for your review Kiana. We're so pleased to hear and we look forward to seeing you back again soon!Had an error with my order as they'd sent to my billing address which was different to my shipping address... when I first queried I was told it "the delivery address you provided was to OL9 - - -". You can check this on the confirmation email you received" after responding to the email with a screenshot of said confirmation showing clearly the different addresses (in which time I'd face palmed and ordered and paid next day delivery from my usual supplier - so figured this was going to be usual nightmare to get any resolution you get with most companies) however the responses were quick (despite being after 6pm) and they then admitted the error... mistakes happen, and I was happy with the resolution given and further quick responses, so I'd be inclined to give them another chance going forward based on the good customer service, and hopefully this was just a one off error. Let's hope next ordering experience is 5 star to match the customer service ;) ... maybe one constructive criticism point would be to make the packaging smaller, my order only contained two boxes so could've fit through my letterbox but as the box was much bigger this meant I had to re-arrange delivery to be in when Royal Mail delivered Date of experience: 11 November 2024Thanks for your review Stefan. We're happy to see your rating of 5 stars for customer service and we hope to see you back again soon!Just received my first order and everything was perfect.
