Settings Most Beautiful Settings All the most beautiful options can be configured directly in this extension. This will ensure that no matter how you run prettier - from this extension, from the CLI, or from another IDE with prettier, the same settings will apply. Untitled files will still be formatted using the VS Code Prettier setting even with this option set to true. If you have Prettier and a plug-in registered in your package.json, this extension will attempt to register the language and provide automatic code formatting for both the internal and plug-in languages. This feature can be useful when you have substitutions defined in the configuration file to map custom extensions to an analyzer. Plugins This extension supports the prettiest plugins when you are using a locally or globally resolved version of the prettiest. For example, if you want to change the indentation level from 6 to 4, repeat this search pattern as many times as you like: ^{?} It is relatively easy to understand, reliable, and requires nothing to be installed. Browse prettier - Visual Studio Code Market Place: Prettier - Code Formatter can also be installed in VS Code: Start VS Code Quick Open (Ctrl+P), paste the following command and press enter. Extra Credit: How it works The way the regular expression works is that it corresponds to groups (? ... i.e. ./node_modules/prettier, not ./bin/prettier. For details, see the most beautiful documentation. Extra Credit: Extending You can adapt the number of spaces per indentation level in a file from any original number to a lower target number. You must rely on this workspace to use plug-ins and local/global modules. This workspace is not reliable. If the pretty one is not installed locally with the Design or globally on the machine, the most beautiful version that is packaged with the extension will be used.
