Downloaded subtitles are supposed to be saved on 1) Folder containing video file or 2) Subtitle folder. This message will be popped up if file can't be saved on both folders. Please check if your subtitle folder is selected correctly on Settings > Subtitle > Subtitle folder. Subtitle scrolling requires precise seeking, but some HW decoders have problem of not being able to seek the exact position. Please use SW decoder in this case. Some SW decoder related bug(s) may cause this problem as well. Also "fast seeking" option should be turned off to enable precise seeking with HW+ and SW decoder. Fast seeking can be turned off on Settings > Player > Fast seeking To adjust subtitle sync, Open subtitle panel. Subtitle panel can be opened on Playback screen > Menu > Subtitle (or Menu > Subtitle > Panel). Press +/- button on the right side of the screen. Sync can be adjusted by 0.1s. HW decoder of some devices has timing issues. It is known to be happening on many AMLogic based devices. HW decoder timing can be adjusted on Settings > Decoder > Calibrate playback position. Most types of internal subtitles will be supported in the future. HW decoding mode will show raw video frames for TV-out, but no subtitle nor UI controls on some devices. Use SW decoder instead if this happens. Or this behavior on some devices can be fixed by disabling HW overlays in Home > Settings > Developer Options > Drawing section > Disable HW Overlays. This will depend on which protocols and networking tools are used. If subtitle file cannot be loaded, subtitle folder can be an alternative. Just select a folder as subtitle folder and copy all subtitle files onto that folder. After this is done, MX Player will read subtitle files from this folder in addition to the media library folder. Subtitle folder can be selected on Settings > Subtitle > Subtitle Folder. Subtitle file may be read using incorrect character encoding. Please try again after manually selecting correct encoding on Settings > Subtitle > Encoding. Or fonts may be missing. If subtitle language is not natively supported by your device, fonts for that language may not exist. In this case, copy proper font files on /sdcard or font folder of MX Player. Font folder can be selected on Settings > Subtitle > Text > Font Folder. Its default location is /sdcard or /mnt/sdcard. Subtitle drawing process can slightly slow down video playback if CPU is used at its maximum level. However, the impact can be minimized if you use the following settings: Turn off text border, shadow, and fade out effect. Minimize drawings by removing elapsed time and battery/clock from the screen. For Android 4.0 ICS and later, Use HW acceleration for subtitle drawing (Settings > Subtitle > HW Acceleration) Most SSA scripts are supposed to be run on Windows environment, so they assume that all Windows fonts are available. But it is not true for Android, in fact, Windows fonts are not shipped on Android at all. So you should manually bring it to your device. Correct location for font files is /sdcard or selected font folder of MX player. Or you can force the device to use Android's default font instead of specified fonts on SSA script on Menu > Subtitle > Use Default Font. Scale can be changed on Menu > Display > Settings > Text > Scale. If correct font is not used, some characters can be displayed smaller or larger than other characters. Most SSA scripts are supposed to be run on Windows environment, so they assume that all Windows fonts are available. But it is not true for Android, in fact, Windows fonts are not shipped on Android at all. So you should manually bring it to your device. Correct location for font files is /sdcard or selected font folder of MX player. It can be fault of subtitle hardware acceleration of some devices including Nexus 10. To fix this, subtitle hardware acceleration should be turned off on Setting > Subtitle > Appearance > HW acceleration. However, subtitle hardware acceleration can only be turned off through system settings for some devices including Nexus 10. Check System settings > System > Developer options > Drawing > Disable HW overlays. (Please note that Developer options menu would not be shown by default. Tap System settings > System > About phone menu 10 times to show Developer options) Animation is not fully compliant with SSA specification as of yet. This will be supported in the future. It is due to the way rendering subtitle. If 'Improve SSA rendering' is used, subtitle images are directly blended over video frame. Therefore, left/right movement animation of subtitle image is not possible. Layout margin cannot be applied with subtitles having drawing coordination itself. This can happen if font cache is corrupted. In this case, clear cache font on Settings > General > Clear font cache. This is a known issue on some devices. Try Android 4.0 compatible mode under Settings > Player. This option is introduced due to error on Android (as well as Linux) font system. It is known that some widely used SSA fonts - DFHSGothic-W7, DFPHSGothic-W7, DFCHSGothic-W7 - are being displayed differently from Windows. With this option, MX Player will override these fonts to either Arial, Roboto or Droid Sans. We recommend putting Arial on MX Player's font directory. You can select font directory on Settings > Subtitle > Font folder. There are internal subtitle rendering services in some Amlogic based devices (such as MINIX series) which force to draw subtitles over HW decoder. Please visit here for turning off this service.
