Educational institutions offer degrees, diplomas and certificates, depending on the type of institute, program and duration. Universities are normally authorized to grant degree programmes. Schools offer mostly associated degrees and other institutes generally offer skill-oriented diplomas and certificates. In Canada, the provincial government controls the education system while the federal government monitors the overall functioning of the education system. Both public and private education institutes, universities and colleges are open to international students. However, provincial governments cannot necessarily regulate private schools throughout the country. Eligibility Criteria for the UG Program in Canada: Canadian Universities/Colleges use a Grade Point Average score to evaluate the academic eligibility of applicants to study in Canada. GPA is a standard method to calculate the average grade of a student for your high school study period. Universities/colleges have metrics to convert Indian divisions to GPA scores. Apart from the GPA to qualify, international students must appear for standardized entrance exams/tests to study in Canada. IELTS (International English Language Testing System) is an international standardized test of English language competence for non-native speakers. In the test of speaking, listening, reading and writing skills in the English language, it is tested for seekers who want to study or work in an English-speaking environment. TOEFL (Test of English as a Foreign Language) is a testInternationally accepted from English linguistic competition for those who want to study and work abroad. The test evaluates the reading, listening, talks and writing skills in the English language. El el TOEFL IBT Rating in the range of 70-89 and IELTS score in the range of 6-7 is considered good to apply to Canadian colleges / colleges. Both the TOEFL scores and IELTS are validas for 2 years. Apart from academic performance, criteria such as extracurricular activities, leadership skills, SOP, letter of recommendation are taken into account by universities / colleges before accepting an admission request. Know more about the entry requirements for Canadian universities. Types of Undergraduate Education in Canada Certificate Programs A typical certificate program in Canada involves three to eight academic academics post-secondary study on one subject. These programs are aimed at providing skills and knowledge for an entry level occupation. University or university diploma More than 200 institutions offer post-secondary diplomas in Canada. University diplomas typically include a minimum of two full-time academic years of specialized post-secondary study. As certificate programs, diploma programs are developed primarily to meet specific demands for industrial or technical skills. Associate Degree: These are typically two-year full-time curricula in the field of science, humanities and social science. The title is equivalent to the first two years of a four-year university degree. A student may convert a degree associated with a degree of bachelor's degree, using the credits earned to enrol in a program in a university/college authorized to grant a degree of bachelor's degree. Degree: Most universities in Canada offer a three-year and four-year bachelor's degree as standard practice. They require 90 and 120 credits for termination, respectively. Bachelor's degrees can be awarded by authorized universities only. There are some universities that have been granted the authority to offer bachelor degrees. Types of Higher Education Institutes in Canada At the post-secondary level, Canada has universities, colleges, colleges, technology institutes and specialized institutes that have the authority to offer degree programs. They have a wide range of courses with an equal focus on teaching and research. Non-degraded concessions-These institutions are recognized public schools or are registered private that offer professional training programs in a wide range of academic and technical fields. These institutes can become community schools, applied arts schools and technology, technology and advanced learning institutes, academies and private institutes. These schools can also offer short-term courses that last between several several months. Why choose Canada for UG? High Academic Standards The Canadian government has education as one of its main approaches that has resulted in Canada as a preferred overseas study destination for international students. Sentencedly for years, Canadian universities have been among the top 50 universities worldwide. Coherence in education, high-quality teachers and resources supported by a strong framework for higher education has made Canada a popular choice for post-secondary education. Affordable education Canada is a developed nation, however, the cost of education for an international student here is less compared to other Western developed nations such as the United Kingdom and the United States. The tuition rate, cost of living, health insurance, all together are significantly low compared to other countries. Here public and private institutes extend financial support to students in the form of grants and scholarships. Friendly to Canada is known for its friendly immigration policies. Students studying in Canada find it easier to adapt here, as it has a diverse society that includes different cultures. This makes life in Canada easy for international students, as they find extensive support from their communities.
