"[7] The time was the talent of Goldie Hawn, stating: " Goldie Hawn, such as the next door, has come a long way from her giddy role in Laugh-In: she is often genuinely touching."[8] Time praised the acting of both Edward Albert and Eileen Heckart: "Edward Albert, the son of Actor Edward Albert, is creditable as the blind boy, and Eileen Heckart is appropriately hateful as the mother, although she is unable to be convincing in her transformation. But then nobody could be."[8] The film holds a score of 67% on Rotten Tomatoes, based on 12 reviews.[9] The film was rated in M in New Zealand and Australia where it was previously rated PG.
